

MONDAY MUSINGS

AHS Hall of Fame Induction Ceremony

On Friday night, six Asheboro High School graduate athletes and the 1950 football team were inducted in the Asheboro High School Hall of Fame. These individuals included: Tina Lineberry (1995), Keione Covington (1997), David Couch (1980), Jimmy Dollyhigh (1967), David White (1985), and Darrell Rich (1965). The total number of inductees in the Asheboro Hall of Fame is now 82. The event spotlighted each individual for their athletic and academic accomplishments at Asheboro High School and those beyond the AHS walls.

AHS Zoo School Introduces FFA Chapter

On Tuesday, September 29th history was made as the Asheboro Zoo FFA Chapter was officially inducted into the National FFA Organization at a chartering ceremony held at the AHS Zoo School. The ceremony had nearly 100 attendees; special guests included Dr. Terry Worrell, Dr. Brian Toth, several board members, and North Carolina FFA state officers. Having a FFA chapter will mean that AHS Zoo School students will have the opportunity to develop their potential for premier leadership, personal growth and career success through agricultural education. The chapter's program of activities for the year includes community service projects, chapter meetings, participating in skills competitions and leadership conferences all over the state, and raising agricultural awareness and appreciation through education and service.

Eighth Graders Visit Employers in Asheboro

Eighth graders from Asheboro City and Randolph County School Systems visited several employers throughout the county on Friday to learn about potential career opportunities. Students toured Klausner, Energizer, and the welding center at Randolph Community College. They also listened to a panel discussion and video presentation hosted by RCC. The field trip was a success in exposing our eighth graders to the many possibilities for education and employment right here in Randolph County!

On Friday, eighth graders took a field trip to learn about all the great opportunities in Asheboro.

Mayor's Fitness Challenge Kicks Off this Week

Looking for a way to get physically active this fall? Then sign-up for the 2015 Mayor's Fitness Challenge! This six-week fitness challenge begins on Monday, October 5 and will run through Sunday, November 15. Interested participants can sign-up individually or with a team. The best part - there is no fee to participate! Team captains or individuals should contact Lisa Park at lpark@ci.Asheboro.nc.us to sign up. Then each team member will need to register at the following website: www.healthycommunitiesA3.org. Prizes will be awarded at the end of the challenge for individuals and teams logging the most amount of steps during the six weeks.

The AHS drumline served as entertainment at the Mayor's Fitness Challenge kick-off.

2015-16 Exceptional Education Teacher of Excellence for Asheboro City Schools

Cindy Cranford, teacher of the visually impaired, has been selected as the 2015-16 Exceptional Education Teacher of Excellence for Asheboro City Schools. Mrs. Cranford's enthusiasm, her innovativeness, and her genuine concern for her students are exemplary. Her flexibility in working with students, parents, and other teachers has earned her an enviable reputation as an excellent teacher and advocate for children with visual impairments. Ms. Cranford will be honored at the 65th Conference on Exceptional Children in November.
