Meet the BOE: Mrs. Gidget Kidd

Mrs. Gidget Kidd was first elected to the Asheboro City Board of Education in 2001. Since then, she has served the students and staff of ACS because she is “passionate about public education and helping children be the very best they can.” She says she wants to be part of the solution. Mrs. Kidd loves spending time with her family, being at the beach, and doing yard work. She loves fresh fruit and veggies and if she had $1 million, she would invest half, pay of college loans, and share the wealth!

In addition to the Google Sheet, a video has also been created to help educators navigate the database! Happy researching!
