Asheboro City Schools Invites the Community for School Tours

ASHEBORO – Asheboro City Schools invites families, friends, and the community to tour the district’s elementary, middle, and high schools to experience the unique learning taking place in the district. Students across Asheboro have access to interactive and hands-on learning at each level of education. In elementary, students have the opportunity to become fluent in Spanish, they learn the value of community service in a variety of service clubs at the middle school level, and they are set on the path to success by engaging in rigorous academic offerings at the Asheboro High School Zoo School, Asheboro High School Early College Academy, Asheboro High School Health Science Academy, and in a variety of Advanced Placement courses, and certificate/credentialing-concentrated classes.

“It is a special time in Asheboro City Schools as our educators have many results to celebrate and many programs to showcase. With our public schools as the backbone of our community our teachers and administrators are committed to providing an exceptional learning experience each and every day. We believe our students deserve only the best learning options and we believe in meeting each of their individual needs. Day after day, we strive to make the best school district even better. We invite our community to our schools so they can see first-hand the phenomenal connections that are being made between students, with their educators, and to see a real picture of what it is we do to improve the lives of students across our community,” said Dr. Terry W. Worrell, Superintendent for Asheboro City Schools.
